

WE MEET AGAIN EDITION

Presidents' Message

It's been quite the two- and a-bit years, meeting over Zoom, and going to Lake Ontario Park when the weather cooperated. We are hoping to be back at our regular meeting place starting in September. We will make sure to stay safe and follow all Covid protocols. We hope you will join us. It will be so good to see everyone once again.

The quilt show is coming up fast. We encourage you to finish your beautiful quilts, wall hangings, and other quilted items, and don't forget to make a few boutique pieces. We are looking for items to make and welcome all ideas, especially yours. Our outdoor meetings were well attended. We might've inspired a few walkers by too. The "Canada Quilt" certainly surprised some out-of-town visitors going for a stroll at Lake Ontario. One lady, in particular, couldn't believe her eyes! The more she looked, the more she saw. She commented on how real everything looked, especially the prairie skies. She loved the depth perception and myriad of detail. She wished the quilt would travel across Canada! And she couldn't get over how calm we all were about it! We also told her about the Quilt of Belonging which she hadn't heard of. (She wasn't a quilter.) She went home with many websites, and a new appreciation for what quilters can do these days. (She was comparing us to the Group of Seven painters! Margaret Rhodes would've loved it!)

Our first indoor meet at St. John’s was much appreciated. We all wore masks and left the doors wide open. We were able to see the blocks of our autumn-coloured “Scrap Quilt” come together on the design wall. Even though the blocks are all different with varied colours, sizes, and techniques, they made a stunning display. We must finish this quilt top for the hand quilting demonstrations at the quilt show. We still have to figure out the border and stitch all the pieces together. Here’s hoping you can sew a column of blocks together over the summer and we can meet to join the columns to have the top finished and be thinking about the border come fall.

A few of us sat social-distanced around the “Canada Quilt” and worked on the circular border being attached to the multi-coloured outer border. It felt good to be stitching together again. Be sure to come and put a few stitches in the quilt.

Our Show and Share was also spectacular with Simone leading the group with many finished quilts and things. Eileen shared a quilt she had just finished. It was why she was late getting to the meeting. She had to finish it before she came. It was lovely. (Made for a good friend of her grandson who always snatched one of Eileen’s quilts to snuggle when he was little.) Watch for pictures of these quilts and some of the others shown farther along in the Newsletter.

Nelly has donated a quilt top that we will hand quilt to sell at the show. We will have it ready and setup to be quilted, come September. So much to do, together!

And so, it is with much hope of seeing you in the fall, that we end here. We wish everyone a safe and happy summer.

Let’s go quilt!

May 24th Meet at Lake Ontario Park

Oh Bother!

That tripod set up for quilt display gave a lot of trouble. It certainly got the best of us. Joyce suffered a bruised ankle and Donna had a lucky escape!

The Scrappy Quilt Begins to Take Shape

Donna Hamilton

Thanks to the efforts of several members, especially Mary Ann McA, our Scrappy Quilt is beginning to look like a quilt! Unfortunately, my math was off, and we were short four 12" blocks.

Next meeting, we hope to finish this part of the quilt and send one column of blocks home with seven individuals to sew together.

There are a lot of different techniques in this quilt. How many can you find?

Donated Touch Quilts

Given to KHQ by Wendy N. to be donated to the Fairmont Home.

Donated Baby Quilts

Joan Bales sewed the top. It will be set aside for the boutique.

Baby Quilt Report

From July 2021 to May 2022, KHQ's members donated 64 baby quilts and 14 blankets (knitted and crocheted) to the Hugs program at KGH.

If anyone wants to make one or just the top of one over the summer, the finished size the volunteers have requested is 35" by 30" or smaller.

I have lots & lots of 6" squares to share if anyone wants to sew a top and would like some baby fabrics. I look forward to seeing our group in September.

Peggy

Show and Share

Nathan is pretty much a life long friend of my grandson Owen. They are both 25 years old. I made a quilt this size for Owen and his older brother Troy - around 15 years ago. Nathan - apparently - has wanted one ever since. He says that every time he was over at Owen's he would grab the quilt and wrap it around himself. He asked for his to be as soft and cuddly as Owen's and the colours he wanted were black, charcoal, grey and dark green.

Eileen

Jeannine introduced two more to the gnome family. In the distinctive hats on the right, Gnemo and Gnellie. The pattern maker is Sarah Schira. The instructions are available on Ravelry.

Gnemo is known to like his hot chocolate with rum. Gnellie is a beardless gnome but luckily has a warm scarf!

Two blocks made by Mary Anne show the latest BOM designs. Donna is holding Mary Ann McAndrew's June block, and Mary Ann McA is holding Anjali's May block.

Basically, the same block except Mary Ann's version is simpler, in that hers has fewer triangles. Anjali went crazy (according to Donna) and turned some squares into half triangles. Donna did up her block in EQ8 before zooming with Anjali to perfect the design. Anjali decided to add more lines (ie. triangles)!

Mary Ann drew up her June block before she saw Anjali's block. As she made Anjali's block she thought, this seems familiar. The reason is, the two are the same block, but different!

Quilts by Simone

Delft Blue, Piecing The Past Quilts. Book with patterns donated to KHQ library.

Storm at Sea, Members' Block Raffle. Block introduced By Donna. Blocks won by Simone.

Simone made the diaper bag for her great niece. She has gone into bag production in a big way with many new purses to show at the meetings lately. The smaller ones shown on left, are fabric treated with heat n' bond for a sturdy construction.

Two other bags spotted at meetings lately. On the left, one for the boutique by Lorna. On the right, a colourful bag made by Mary Ann which she uses.

Eleanor showed these two quilts at the June 16th meeting. Detail of second quilt shown below.

Two quilts shown by Lyn.

Karen Q shared some Kingston Heirloom history with the group's yellow apron made to be worn at earlier shows. To the right, is a wreath Karen made reusing fabric from old aprons.

Shown below, her wreaths for her kitchen, St. Patrick's Day, KHQ, and Pride Week, the latter which can also go into the sewing room as the colour wheel!

Episode 4 - Crazy Quilting Is Not For Wimps

The lovely Penelope Player takes us down memory lane sharing her story of family quilts, and one quilt that made it all the way to Japan Penelope charms us with her humorous take on crazy quilting that involves intricate embroidery work and lots of patience. Ultimately, the results are stunning, and the concentrated hours of dedication seem worth it to both the connoisseur and the inexperienced. . She sheds light on the dark underside of quilting that often finds her students, but with fair warning when they begin her class.
